Raising Funds for Fairhaven Playground By Kenneth J. Souza

For Trina Bigham and Paula Barry of Fairhaven, watching their children play in the school yard of the Leroy L. Wood School was a bittersweet experience. While most parents would relish watching their children have fun, Trina and Paula found themselves struggling with the fact that their physically-challenged children couldn't enjoy outdoor activities like their classmates.

Trina's six-year-old son, Brennan, has cerebral palsy and must use a walker to negotiate the school yard. Paula's eight-year-old son, Patrick, is afflicted with muscular dystrophy and is confined to a wheelchair.

Needless to say, both children cannot fully enjoy the simple pleasures of gliding down a slide or dangling from a swing set ... at least, not without the benefit of a handicap-accessible facility. So the women have joined forces to raise an estimated $100,000 to purchase and install a "boundless" playground at the Wood School.

"Initially, it was Paula who saw her son was unable to play on the playground (at the Wood School)," said Ms. Bigham. "She started asking people and putting out some feelers, and I came across her through a friend. As soon as we hooked up together, it was like an immediate partnership."

Since the women shared a common interest in having their sons able to play with the other able-bodied children, they first went to town and school officials to see what could be done. But with budgetary constraints to consider, neither the school budget nor the town budget could support the full $100,000 burden.

Ms. Bigham and Ms. Barry then met with the Fairhaven Board of Selectmen and agreed to draft an article for the May, 1997 Town Meeting warrant to fund half of the project with the agreement that they would raise the other half through fund raisers and grant applications.

"Town Meeting supported us and they gave us $50,000 to get started," Ms. Bigham said. "We initially were going to request $70,000 at Town Meeting, but then we decided to reduce it because we got feedback from people that $70,000 was too much. We thought our chances were better at getting $50,000. We felt we had an obligation to do our part, so that's what we did. The town agreed to pay half, and we're going to raise the other half."

Ms. Bigham said she's glad that she and Paula have decided to take this route and make a positive change in the town. "We talked to a lot of different agencies ... at the state and local levels," she said. "They told us the best way to get (action) is to file a complaint. We thought that we still have to live in (Fairhaven) and we don't want to make any enemies. Some lawyers even called us and agreed to take up (a law suit) for free ... other groups were telling us to file a discrimination suit.

The 100-year-old building was host to a constant flow of well-wishers during the special event this week.

The two local women are working to raise $100,000 to purchase and install a similar handicap-accessible playground at the Wood School in Fairhaven so children like Trina's son Brennan (front, l.) and Paula's son Patrick (front, r.) can interact with their classmates. Cover insert: Eight Acushnet young women will compete for the title of "Miss Apple-Peach 1997" at the annual pageant to be held at the Acushnet Elementary School on Friday, August 22. This year's contestants include (standing, l. to r.) Nicole Borges, Megan Gaudette, Morgann Robitaille (on rock), Stephanie Ferreira, Brooke Gordon, and (seated, l. to r.) Monique Ramsay, Audra Poulin, and Melissa Guilbeault. (Photo by and courtesy of De Araujo Photography, 3 Middlefield Place, Acushnet, MA Tel. 995-3628).

But we just decided there must be a better way to go about this."

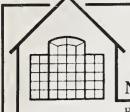

It was about a year ago that Ms. Bigham and Ms. Barry first teamed up, and since that time they have supervised and sponsored a series of fund-raising efforts including a candy bar sale, tee-shirt sales, Beanie Baby raffles, a pizza party, a roller skating party, a car wash at the Fairhaven Wal-Mart, and a yard sale at the town's Homecoming Fair.

"Certainly each event has raised some money," Ms. Bigham said. "The car wash raised $350, we made $106 at the pizza party, at the yard sale we made like $1,400, collecting outside Shaw's we made $600. And last weekend, we had a girl from K-Mart who decided to do a fund raiser for us. She enlisted the help of her employees at K-Mart and raised $315 on her own."

Ms. Bigham noted they have "about $70,000 cashin-hand," including the $50,000 appropriated at Town Meeting. They also have another pending commitment of $10,000 from two local firms, but haven't yet received the donations. "We also have a couple of grants that we are going to find out about soon — one in August and one in September," she said.

For Trina and Paula, this project has been both a labor of love and a learning experience. "Paula and I both have disabled children," Ms. Bigham said. "We think play is very important to children and their development. A lot of what they learn is through play ... and playing on a playground really builds their social skills. We feel their not just missing out on it, but every other child interacting with them is missing out. At that age (children) are questioning what happened, and they can learn about disabilities. When they have these kids in their classroom and playing on the playground, they're not going to be scared of disabilities. I think we can help break down these stereotypes ... I know the kids don't look at (my son) any differently."

It is this need for interaction which made the Wood School a perfect site for the project — since it is the designated "handicap-accessible" school in Fairhaven. "Both state and federal laws only require one barrier-free school per town," Ms. Bigham said. "Since that's the case, it would be more difficult to get a playground in a school which isn't already handicap-accessible."

With an estimated 17 percent of the population living with some sort of disability today, the need for a facility like this one seems ever more prevalent. "Presently there are no wheelchair-friendly playgrounds south of Boston," Ms. Bigham said. "We're aiming to change that — our playground is called 'boundless' and will be as close to 100-percent handicap-accessible as possible. Granted, the children in wheelchairs won't be able to climb and do certain things ... but we're trying to do something that's challenging and exciting for all children."

As such, the new "boundless" facility will be installed near the school's existing playground, but cannot be interconnected due to handicap requirements. "We are going to try to blend the two structures, but they can never connect," Ms. Bigham said. "We're trying to put (both playgrounds) in a park-like setting (at the Wood School). We're planning to have a ship and a fort ... so children can imagine that the boat's out in the water and they can yell to their friends," Ms. Bigham said. "Nearly everyday we get calls from parents of disabled children who tell us that their children have never played on a playground in their entire life. That really motivates us to try to get this done."

With any luck — and the continued support of local residents and businesses — Trina and Paula will be able to have their wish-come-true this fall when the $100,000 "boundless" playground is finally installed. "We'd like to install the playground this fall, but that depends on whether we reach our goal," Ms. Bigham said. "We have a bid out right now and it might get a little higher."

Ms. Bigham also wanted to thank all those who have been so generous thus far, including: the Fairhaven Rotary Club, the North Fairhaven Improvement Association, the Community Mini Grant Program of New

When asked what her son thinks of her plans to install a "boundless" playground at his school, Ms. Bigham said he's thrilled. "Brennan thinks it's great and he can't wait to play in the playground," she said. "And he's a big help with the fund raising, too. All my kids are out there asking for money ... they're much better at it than adults. And my other two able-bodied kids also can't wait to play with their brother on the playground. The whole family has been very supportive."

"The pageant is open to any Acushnet resident between the ages of 15 and 17," Ms. Barlow said. "We put out notices and eight people applied ... with some returning from last year."

This year's batch of contestants consists of: Stephanie Ferreira (age 15); Megan Gaudette (age 16); Audra Poulin (age 15); Monique Ramsay (age 16); Nicole Borges (age 17); Brooke Gordon (age 16); Morgann Robitaille (age 15); and Melissa Guilbeault (age 15).

Ms. Barlow said a photo shoot was held on August 14 at the gazebo behind the Parting Ways Building and a rehearsal was slated for August 19 prior to the event.

Sponsored by the Acushnet Lions Club, the pageant will be hosted by FUN-107 personality Sharon Fogeran, and the judges will include Marlene and Michael Kalisz, Kari Pina (Miss New Bedford), and Mike Rock, also of FUN-107.

The program for the evening will include the contestants in their casual wear, during which they will be asked what it means for them to become Miss Apple-Peach. After the introduction of the judges and a performance by Kari Pina, the contestants will return in their semi-formal wear with an escort of their choice and will be asked a random question. Jillian Robitaille, Miss Apple-Peach 1996, will also be on hand to thank everyone for her past year and also to crown her successor to be chosen that evening.

Ms. Barlow said her first year as co-chair of the pageant has gone "very smoothly" and she wanted to thank all the local businesses who have contributed prizes and gift certificates so that all contestants receive something for their participation. Marion Selectmen's Meeting

August 19, 1997

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, August 19 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Loretta B. Schaefer. Also present were Selectman Albert E. Winters, Selectman Jonathan "Jody" Dickerson, and Secretary Helene Craver.

After signing the treasury warrant for the week and approving the minutes of the August 5 meeting, the board unanimously approved a request for the use of the Marion Music Hall for May of 1998, contingent upon completion of the renovation project on the building.

The board also noted receipt of a letter of resignation from Frank Cerkovitz, who is stepping down as a member of the Conservation Commission (ConCom) due to his busy work schedule. Mr. Cerkovitz, however, would like to remain on the ConCom as an Associate Member. The board unanimously voted to accept Mr. Cerkovitz's resignation, with regret, and noted that there is now a vacancy on the ConCom. Anyone interested in serving on the commission should submit a letter and resume to the Marion Board of Selectmen, c/o Town Hall, 122 Main Street, Marion, MA 02738.

Under incoming correspondence for the week, the board received a letter and signed petition from some 19 residents residing near Jonathan Henry's property at 49 South Street. The petitioners requested that the town's department enforce regulations regarding Mr. Henry's property and that the conditions stated in Mr. Henry's building permit be met, to wit: that the garage be removed and a shed at the rear of the property be demolished.

In a letter dated July 23 from Building Commissioner Ray Pickles, he advised that Mr. Henry has applied to move the garage to a Chairman Schaefer added that the application has since been withdrawn and the building will not be moved at the present time. The board agreed to request that the Building Department follow up on this matter.

The artist formerly lived in Marion for many years. Chairman Schaefer noted the print is now on display in the Selectmen's office, and she wished to thank Sippican, Inc. for this kind gift.

Resident Charles F. Nadler Jr. of Converse Road next sent a letter to the board expressing his interest in serving on the town's Finance Committee (FinCom). The board agreed to forward this letter to

The board received notification from MediaOne that as of August 11, all telephone calls to the company will be routed to the New Bedford office. The office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 am to 7:30 pm, and Saturday, 8:00 am to 5:00 pm. The company also noted that once their drop swing upgrade takes place later this summer, Marion customers will no longer be offered the "FM Service" as part of their cable hookup.

Chairman Schaefer said she was most concerned about this drop in service, since many sections of Marion offer poor FM reception and many customers rely on this service. Selectman Winters added that during their contract negotiations with Media One, no mention was ever made of dropping this service. "We were told there would be no reduction in services," he said. "This was never discussed."

The board agreed to invite a representative from MediaOne to one of their future meetings to discuss this matter further.

At 7:10 pm the board met with James Neall regarding the swim floats at Silvershell Beach. Mr. Neall told the board that he likes to go swimming at Silvershell Beach, and he often uses the two floats anchored off the shore. "One of (the floats) is so constructed that it's difficult to climb up onto," he said. "And the float which is closer to the beach — the ladder is nearly impossible to climb. I'm just asking that the town fix the ladders to make them easier to use."

Chairman Schaefer thanked Mr. Neall for bringing this matter to their attention. "I would imagine that this would be something we'd have to add to our 'to do' list for the winter season," she said.

The board next unanimously voted to allow the closure of the town's Transfer Station on Labor Day, which has been their past practice.

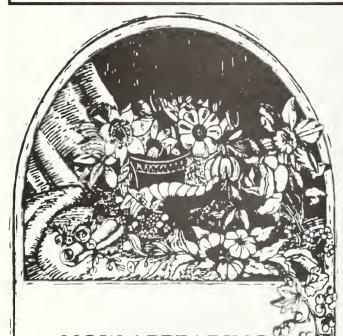

At 7:20 pm the board met with Planning Board Chairman George T. J. Walker, Planning Board member Anne Shoemaker, and Circulation Subcommittee Member John Rockwell to discuss pending plans for a bicycle and/or recreational path along Creek Road. Also present were several residents from the Creek Road and Point Road neighborhood to voice their concerns over this project.

Mr. Walker prefaced his remarks by saying that it isn't the duty of the Planning Board of the Circulation Subcommittee to construct or build bike paths in town. He simply came before the Board of Selectmen to get clarification on their charge in preparing a plan as sanctioned by Town Meeting voters in April, 1995.

"Town Meeting voters unanimously voted in favor of a bike path and (the Circulation Subcommittee) was formed to prepare an engineering plan for the project," Mr. Walker said. "When construction work began on Creek Road, it was decided that a five-foot sidewalk would be built ... and not a bike path. I'd like to know if it's true that a decision has already been made to construct a bike path?"

Chairman Schaefer said that she, personally, agreed that the construction of a sidewalk along Creek Road was in the residents' best interest in terms of safety. "Safety is our first concern," she said. "A number of residents use that road ... and we realize that the intersection of Creek Road and Point Road is dangerous ... and the intersection of Creek Road and Route 6 is dangerous. But there have been no decisions made as to the bike path (along Creek Road)."

Selectman Dickerson, however, said it was his understanding that his fellow Selectmen were opposed to the bike path along Creek Road. He also noted that he, personally, would not support a bike path along Creek Road. "My decision not to support the bike path was based on retaining the character of the town and protecting the property value in that area," he said. "I have reviewed numerous surveys and documentation both from the state and federal government ... and I think we need to define what we're talking about when we say 'bike path.'"

Mr. Walker said that he is concerned about the rumors floating around regarding plans for the bike path. "These rumors floating around are counter-productive," he said. "We have citizens fighting against citizens ... we are simply looking at the possibility of planning for a bike path."

"All we're trying to do now is get some input regarding the design of (Creek Road)," said John Rockwell. "If we decide to call them wide sidewalks, that's fine. If we call them something else, that's fine."

BEST SOURCE FOR HOMES

If you have been looking for a home to purchase and assumed that the home of your dreams would pop up in the newspaper ads, you'd be mistaken.

A recent survey of the National Association of Realtors revealed that only 8% of buyers find their homes through newspaper advertising. Fifteen percent find their home through "For Sale" signs, 3% by knowing the seller, 1% from magazine ads and 4% from other sources. The vast majority of buyers, 64%, find their homes through Realtors. Of course, most of the real estate advertising and signage is done by real estate agencies. So, in the final analysis, 95% of buyers will coordinate their purchase through a Realtor.

The key to successful house hunting more often begins calling or visiting our office and forgetting the classified ads. In fact, we will probably have more homes for sale that will never appear in ads or have signs placed in their front yard. It makes sense to use this time-saving ap-

Chairman Schaefer said she still feels that a road layout and design needed to be prepared and presented before the board and the residents could support the project one way or another. "We don't have any time limits as to when (Creek Road) needs to be done," she said, referring to funding requirements under Chapter 90 from the state. "What we've asked for is a road layout to see what is possible while taking into account the safety concerns, the concerns of residents, and the recommendations of the (Circulation Subcommittee)."

Many residents were at odds as to whether or not the bike should travel down Creek Road. Resident Richard Wickenden said he wanted "the same privacy and protection for myself and every other home owner in Marion," and stressed he was "opposed" to the bike path measure. But Jay Crowley said she was saddened by residents' reactions to this proposal, noting that "you can go by my house and my family's property any time you want."

Ted Pratt said the problem clearly lies in the design of the roads. "When I drive down Point Road, I have to slow down or stop for oncoming traffic or pedestrians," he said. "I don't want to wait until someone get hurt or killed to fix this problem."

After hearing further comments from the many residents present, Planning Board Chairman T. J. Walker wanted to know if the Circulation Subcommittee should continue their work in preparing a plan for a Creek Road bike path. "There are 32 volunteers who don't know what their next task is," he said. "I don't think we should stop the planning process ... I'm hoping that we can walk away from this meeting and continue to plan for the future."

Both Chairman Schaefer and Selectman Winters agreed that Creek Road needs, at a minimum, a new sidewalk. And Selectman Dickerson added that he agrees and he also would like the Circulation Subcommittee to also get a ruling from the Attorney General's office as to the definition of "bike path" as authorized by Town Meeting voters in 1995 so that the allocation funding could be used for engineering and design purposes.

At 8:50 pm the board voted to go into Executive Session to discuss pending litigation and would thereafter adjourn for the evening.

This week the folks at Animal Umbrella have three adult males who really need to move on from their foster situations. Two very large cats — one black and white short-haired, the other a silver and grey long-haired — would both do well in an indoor/outdoor situation. Please call Susan at 758-4044 to view them.

The group's third male, "Tux" (as Jackie, his foster mom calls him), just needs someone to love him. He is mostly black with a tuxedo bib, white paws, and white whiskers. He would make someone a great pet. Please call Jackie at 758-4690 to see him.

At the Fairhaven Animal Shelter on Bridge Street (across from Wal-Mart), several dogs are awaiting adoption. They include:

- A young male, all-black lab/Akita mix who also needs a friend to run and play with him;
- A husky mix (tan and white male) with no tail;
 and
- A very friendly tan-colored male pit bull. All dogs at the shelter have been heartworm-tested and vaccinated against rabies and distemper. Please call Fairhaven Animal Control Officer Kristin at 979-4028 to make an appointment to view the dogs.

If you are interested in helping Animal Umbrella by adopting one of the other aforementioned pets, please contact one of the following local representatives:

The Annual Meeting of the Friends of the Elderly will be held on September 16 at 3:00 pm at the Senior Center, located in the basement of the Knights of Columbus Hall. This meeting is open to all members of the Friends of the Elderly of Mattapoisett. Please try to attend.

Rezoning Route 6 in Marion

At the direction of Town Meeting, the Marion Planning Board has studied the proposed rezoning of the Route 6 corridor and has scheduled a Special Town Meeting for Tuesday, October 29, 1997, so that voters may consider the Board's amended recommendations on this and other warrant articles.

As recommended in the January 1996 Report of the Growth Management Committee (GMC) and by the hundreds of citizens who participated in the growth management process, the board will propose significant changes in the zoning of Route 6 between Front Street and Point Road. Approximately 132 acres along this section of the highway would be rezoned from general business to residential and business nodes would be established at the two major intersections.

The board is convinced that these actions are critical in order to prevent the unsightly strip development that has blighted many nearby towns and will recommend to Town Meeting that all vacant lots and residences in the area in question including multi-family dwellings, be rezoned from general business to Residence "A." Approval of the warrant article will not change the zoning of properties on which business is currently being conducted.

The review, made at the direction of the voters at the Special Town Meeting in March 1997, has led the

HEARTWORMS REVISITED

I don't believe in giving my dog heartworm medicine. What's the big deal?

Heartworms are common in the area between Wareham and Fairhaven. This means that dogs that are not on preventative medicine have a high risk of being infected by a mosquito that is carrying heartworms. Dogs do not need to come in contact with other dogs to get heartworms.

I don't want to get my dog tested for heartworms. If your dog has heartworms, he may die from them. He will also be a source of heartworms for other dogs in the area that are not on a preventative. So not only is your dog at risk, but you are putting other people's dogs, cats and ferrets at risk as well.

board to make minor changes in its original proposals concerning the business zones at the two intersections. The commercial concept recommended by our planning consultants called for expanding the proposed business nodes into areas presently zoned residential. Citizen comments at public meetings last winter, confirmed by engineers hired by the board, indicated that wetlands and other issues made this aspect of the project questionable, and the board will recommend to voters that no expansion of the nodes be made at this time.

If these changes are approved, owners of properties scheduled for rezoning to residential who wish to use their property for approved business uses must initiate the process of seeking appropriate licenses and permits prior to Special Town Meeting.

Owners of properties that retain general business designation will have the right to continue operation in place, to develop their properties to the extent permitted others with the same designation, and to convey their interests unimpeded.

On August 8, 1997, property owners in the affected areas will be mailed notice of the board's recommendations, and a public hearing has been scheduled for 7:00 pm on September 8 in the Sippican School cafeteria, at which members of the board will explain the proposals prior to Town Meeting. Members will also be available for thirty minutes prior to regular meetings of the board, beginning with the meeting scheduled for August 18 and on the first and music. Parking is available in the Marion General Store parking lot on Front Street in the village.

All voices are welcome (soprano, alto, tenor and bass), and tenors are especially encouraged to sing with the chorus this year. As always, everyone who has sung with the chorus in past years will be welcomed back.

Peter West, director of the chorus, requests that both returning members and new members who, for good reason, cannot make the first rehearsal should call him at 758-4553 or Chorus President Phil Zeimetz at 758-6289 to let them know they intend to sing this year.

The Choral Society's 33rd Annual Christmas Concert will be on Saturday, December 7 and will feature two major pieces: the Mass in B by Franz Schubert and Samuel Barber's Agnus Dei.

Other special Christmas music will include a wonderful arrangement of "The Coventry Carol" from the King's Singers; "The Sussex Carol" and "Good King Wenceslas," both arranged by Willcocks; the Appalachian carol "I Wonder As I Wander"; "Mary's Little Child" by Hairston; and Holst's "Christmas Day."

Now in its 33rd season, the 90-member Sippican Choral Society is under the direction of Peter West, with Corrine Peck as accompanist. The group performs at least two concerts every year, singing the works of the world's great composers, as well as works from the musical theater.

Last December, for instance, the chorus take a basic boating course such as this one. Statistically, boating course graduates have good safety records, making them better risks for marine insurance companies.

In the six two-hour sessions of the course, students will be introduced to the basics of 14 subjects: reading charts and understanding aids-to-navigation, safe boat operation, elementary seamanship, navigation (rules of the road), sailing, engine trouble-shooting, course plotting handling, docking and undocking, weather prediction, trailering your boat, elementary marlinespike seamanship (tying knots that hold).

The seventh session is a final exam. A United States Power Squadron Certificate of Completion is awarded to everyone who completes the course and passes the final exam. Anyone is welcome to sign up for the course. There are no age restrictions, and boat ownership is not required. Instruction is FREE, the only costs being for materials plus $5 to help defray the cost of classroom rental. Prices for materials, including sales tax, are as follows:

Boating course complete kit - $26.50 (includes student manual, a course plotter, and dividers for those who are starting from scratch); Student manual only - $15 (for those who already have the equipment); Extra set of homework questions - $4 (in case more than one family member is taking the course, one set is required for each additional family member); Practice chart and practice rope - $3. The total cost if you have no equipment at all is $34.50 for materials and classroom rental.

Stallone confronts regret and loss in corrupt Cop Land

By Rob Gonsalves

■ Cop Land. Starring Sylvester Stallone and Robert De Niro. Directed by James Mangold. Running time: 104 minutes. MPAA rating: R. At Cinema 8 at North Dartmouth Mall.

If you put Martin Scorsese, Sidney Lumet, and John Sayles together in a room and told them to come up with a modern suburban Western, the result might be something like Cop Land. The sophomore effort of writer-director James Mangold (whose debut was last year's Heavy), Cop Land has the cast of a Scorsese film, the muckraking policecorruption plot of a Lumet film, and the leisurely pace and character focus of a Sayles film. If you admire those directors — as I do — you might enjoy the movie enough to see it twice — as I did. Be warned, though, that Mangold duplicates those filmmakers' flaws as well as their merits.

The movie is set in the fictional Garrison, New Jersey, a town populated almost entirely by New York transit cops (Mangold based it on the real-life New York suburb of Orange County). A quote by Juvenal comes to mind: "Who watches the watchmen?" Well, the town is officially policed by sheriff Freddy Heflin (Sylvester Stallone), who lost his hearing in one ear while saving a woman from drowning; that prevented him from becoming a "real" cop in the nearby big city. But Garrison is unofficially owned and operated by Ray Donlan (Harvey Keitel), a mob-connected cop who colonized Garrison as a dirty cop's paradise and installed the harmless sad sack Freddy as its peacekeeper.

Stallone, who gained 40 pounds for his role, uses his new physical awkwardness and insecurity around "real" actors to convey Freddy's self-hating shame around "real" cops. It's a striking and often touching performance with barely a hint of aggression. Nobody in Garrison takes Freddy seriously, least of all Freddy himself. Denied a true cop's life by one moment of heroism, Freddy is now too frightened to stick his head out of his shell (note the stuffed turtle Mangold plants on two occasions). But a blatant instance of police corruption — an accidental and possibly racially motivated double killing, and the subsequent cover-up — might be enough to jolt Freddy out of his passive fûnk.

I sympathize with some of the criticism of Cop Land - there's too much plot and too many characters, and the film needed to be either streamlined or lengthened. At times, it's like three episodes of NYPD Blue jammed together and whittled down to an acceptable feature length. Some of the best actors suffer from the plot overload; Janeane Garofalo, as Freddy's deputy, has a hard, flat way of saying "Hey, that's not necessary" to a cop who's just called her "cupcake," but that's all she does that I remember even after my second viewing.

Some other actors, though, take advantage of the script's series of confrontations and grandstanding. Robert De Niro, looking like Rupert Pupkin ten years later, is sour-faced and funny as the Internal Affairs cop who's out to nab Keitel. Ray Liotta, in the stand-out performance as a conflicted cop, has an easy and almost gentle rapport with Stallone; Liotta's bitter city cop acts like Freddy's protective older brother.

What lured me back to Cop Land a second time were these performances and the movie's aching and authentic tone of regret. Stallone, who has wasted far too many years in meaningless action and unfunny comedies, may understand all too well Freddy's pain at the path not taken. Freddy proves himself in the end; Stallone proves himself long before that.

time, the Planning Board committed to study the issue further, talk to the interested telecommunication providers, and report back to the town in the fall as to what expansion of the WCF District, if any, would be required. An initial meeting to discuss the results of their investigations has been scheduled for Monday, August 25 at 7:00 pm in the Sippican School cafeteria.

To support the Planning Board's WCF investigations, a committee of four interested residents was formed to study potential sites and talk to interested vendors and land owners. This committee reviewed all potential properties in town, seeking to identify those parcels which meet the best interests of the townspeople while taking into account the technical requirements imposed on the telecom providers by the new Personal Communication Service (PCS) technology. The WCF committee concentrated on reviewing properties from the perspective of minimizing visual impact on the town residents, avoiding sensitive land or land which would require major construction of roads or utilities, as well as several other factors. On-site visits were made to all potential sites. The final recommendations of the WCF committee were delivered to the Planning Board on August 4.

Input from interested residents received on August 25 will be factored into the final Planning Board decisions. A formal public hearing to review any proposed by-law changes to the WCF Overlay District will be scheduled for September 8. All interested Marion

Our Lady's Feast in Fairhaven

The 67th annual Feast of Our Lady of Angels will be held on Labor Day weekend, August 30 to September 1 at 6 Jesse Street in Fairhaven, the feast grounds of Our Lady of Angels Catholic Association, the sponsors of the event since its inception in 1930.

Portuguese and American foods, live band performances, game booths, auctions, and kiddie rides are highlights of the weekend event. The feast hours are Saturday, 5:00 pm to 12:00 midnight; Sunday, 12:00 noon to 12:00 midnight; and Monday, 12:00 noon to 10:00 pm. Admission is FREE.

On Monday morning at 10:00 am, a special Mass will be held at St. Mary's Church on Main Street. Later in the day, a procession will begin on Main Street at 1:00 pm, during which the 700-pound carved wooden statue of Our Lady of Angels will be carried on the shoulders of six men. The statue was carved in 1928 by sculptor Monteiro Borges of Oporto, Portugal, and is based on the design of original statues in a church in Agua da Pau, Sao Miguel, Azores.

For more information on the feast and the weekend events, please call John Barboza at 995-9460 or Dorothy Furtado at 992-5284.

WE ALL MAKE MISTAKES

Fortunately, some can be corrected.

So you should have replaced your old oil-guzzling boiler last year. So you made a mistake. Fortunately, you can still save a bundle this year with a fuel-efficient Smith oil-fired boiler. With its 86% efficiency rating, your Smith boiler pays for itself in fuel savings in no time. Add up the efficiency, comfort and limited lifetime warranty and you'll discover that you can't afford to wait another day.
